TRUDY – TruDiva – Biography

Born and raised in Jamaica, Trudy (TruDiva) began her journey and dream of becoming a singer at the early age of 4. Now, this Clarendon beauty is gearing up to share her incredible gift with the rest of the world.

Described as a cross between Rihanna, Kesha, Keri Hilson, and Beyoncé, but with a style all her own, Trudy is passionate about her God-given talents. Growing up in the church, and watching her mother direct the local choir, gave her a preparation and training ground that developed her natural singing ability. "I would watch, listen and learn from being at all of the choir rehearsals for church" she says, and adds, "Watching my mother direct the choir taught me a lot about singing."

Trudy has nearly overnight caught the eye of the leading industry tastemakers from both Jamaica and the United States. Many believe she is the next major commercial music artist that will break out of the Caribbean. Christopher Birch, known for his groundbreaking records with Shaggy, Sean Paul, and Beenie Man says, "Trudy is the real deal! She is a Superstar on the rise!" Her first single and video for the song "Party All Night" was recently released, and the video debuted on HYPE TV Jamaica at #1. "The response has been amazing! People love the dances, the colors, and the music. It's just been incredible so far," Trudy said in a press release. Nick Vidal, one-half of the world-famous, nationally syndicated radio show "The Baka Boyz" says, "Party All Night is a hot record! I like the track because it sounds like nothing else out there!"

Trudy is an exceptional live entertainer with attention-grabbing vocals. She has performed at concerts in Jamaica, Barbados, and New York – including Teen Splash, Reggae Sumfest, club events, various National Caribbean TV Shows, and also The Circle of Sisters conference event in New York.

Trudy is also a songwriter, with the ability to pen songs almost instantaneously. Veteran producers have watched in almost disbelief as she writes hit melodies and lyrics on the spot. Currently she is busy writing songs and working with tracks from Jamaican hit-makers Conroy Forte, Demarco, and Christopher Birch (Party All Night), and from the USA – producers Reezington, Chuckey Charles, Chris Bell, Jerry Flowers, VIP Sound Circle, Alvin Speights, and Cirocco.

Always looking to stretch herself musically, Trudy has continued to develop her talents and gifts as a singer and songwriter. Recently she was chosen by The Issa Trust Foundation to write and produce a song to help raise money for Jamaica's Youth. Trudy was also recently voted RMP Magazine's Best New Talent. Be on the watch for this up-and-coming music star as new songs are being developed for release through Oceanic Tradewinds Music.
